Hello Mr. Cooke,

The situation with Case # 2302885/20 has escalated to assault with the perpetrator (Dr. Anand Trip) directing other doctors in Addenbrookes Hospital, Cambridge on April 13th and 14th 2020 to perpetuate assault on the victim by withholding medical treatment is sever and gross presentation in an attempt to not admit to clinical fraud.

The report for Case # 2302885/20 was pertaining to diagnostic fraud in a medical setting by Dr. Trip but the case has become far more aggressive in a new situation where Dr. Trip is using falsified medical statements to conscript the help of other physicians to physically harm the patient in a clinical setting.

I need to speak with an investigator for typical charges of assault against Dr. Trip in a clinical setting.

The case is involved with much more evidence.

The link below gives some evidence and details of the situation:

Thank you for the clarification.

I have passed this report to our local CID to have an overview.

At this time I am not able to tell you who the OIC will/would be.

Please be patient while this is looked into.

Kind regards

Subject: Re: Crime Ref Number 2302885/20 - The suspects are accomplices to felony

Hello Mr. Cooke,

The doctor (Dr. Anand Trip) and diagnostician (Dr. S. Catania) are accomplices to felony in a much larger criminal case (that resulted in asylum in the UK). The doctor and diagnostician are aiding and abetting other doctors abroad (the case is multinational) in criminal medical fraud for medical negligence case with the intent of physical harm, physical disfigurement, or intentional disability through negligence. Its criminal due to intent of physical harm and actualization of physical harm.

They are trying to hide physical harm caused in other settings by falsifying medical tests in an attempt to make the harm caused by other doctors seem less. Its easy to demonstrate their intent.

It was complained to the NHS but its outside the role of the NHS. It wouldn't qualify as a NHS complaint (as stated by NHS) due to intent and because its part of a larger multinational criminal case.

A portion of the case file is attached to the email to state the nature of the case (Portion of Police File - Narendra Jana.pdf)

I would need to meet an investigator to rescind the evidence to demonstrate how these two doctors are part of a much larger criminal case. The case involves more than 40 instances of criminal fraud and criminal malice in medical settings with the intent to cause physical harm or disability. The case is easy to present and demonstrate to an investigator.

Thanks,

Narendra Jana

Dear Mr Jana

My name is Jon Cooke and I am a Sergeant at Kentish Town and one of the roles I have is to review Crime Reports that are screened in to Kentish Town.

Having read the report that was created upon your attendance at the Police station on the 27th January 2020 I believe this to be a complaint against the medical professionals that you have listed but cannot see any criminal matters and suggest that you contact NHS England if you wish to take this complaint further.

As such, the above crime has been closed and we will not take further action.

Kind regards
