Reasons for refugee and no other basis for immigration (how it fits the criteria of refugee):

The historical definition of refugee is: Race, religion, nationality, political opinion or membership in a particular social group. You could put it in the frame of racism but the idea odd because It doesn't exist in the the 21st century unless you are of the oldest mentality. I grew up in a predominantly Caucasian culture. There is also greater respect of me due to my higher educational and career, family, and social standards. But the latter part about my higher level of education, career, and social standards is a reason for persecution in the US and elsewhere now.

I'm Atheist but religion doesn't matter because everyone knows that the reason people believe in god is due to a temporal lobe syndrome which is a biological effect derived from the difficulties of a person's personal life stressors. So by persecuting religion a person is persecuting something hardwired into a persons brain pertaining to their life hardships in a nearly direct way. Which is why people fight violent wars over it. So though the US has tried to change me from a Atheist to religious, Im still atheist and I understand what they are persecuting.

Its basic medical knowledge as well.

My reason for refugee is intentional disfigurement created by the US army and government with the goal of member of a particular social group called neurological or physiologically disabled due to a political interest. These people like to disable people in a social point of comparison by ability and then potential. They are a malicious group but with power. They make up reason bit its opportunistic, they pick on vulnerabilities?

Their persecution is:

"if I have a system or government power that I can use to disable a person to create persecution then I would do it. I like to persecute and I have the power to create a reason for people to persecute each other (having less and more). I can intellectually disable a person to create persecution by lessening their ability. "You are disabled and I am not, I have an advantage and you don't. I will persecution you by the simple reason that you are disabled by whatever cause (not even my own). A permanent persecution by whatever created disability and hiding cause. They look for way to cause permanent persecution. Sometimes the persecution is my looks and aesthetics.

They have certain mantras to harm people:

One is "medicine is bad for you and will make things worse". If you don't have the natural ability to be strong then you cant adhere to medicine to make you healthy. Medicine is easy in the US but they lack basic understanding of biology or medicine wy its important. They can't read basic medical inserts or guidelines and have troubles following along with science and biology.

I responded:

"I didn't sign up for this, I can understand basics in biology and medicine", we grew up with it in high school as part of our curriculum; we need medicine and there is never any social cause or bias in medicine. To their medicine is a social cause. =

I'm being persecuted by the uneducated and uneducable about biology but they are often in positions of power. Arnab is the definition of uneducated and uneducable, the other politicians are also definitions of it, a total lack of basic understanding that causes disproportional harm by disability of a group of venerable people (which they know but still won't/do not have the capability to educate themselves).

Their persecution of me now is their long term not wanting to get caught, so they resort to character mis portrayal or cheaper and cheaper harm. Physical harm (more recently physical assaults) and then trying to murder me (a few murder attempts).

More recently they have been trying to assault me in medical settings for me simply being right in a clear way. They misinform and mislead other countries either bullying those of sane intellectual quality (often they bully doctors that know far better) by pushing for a social cause vs. simply biological. And their social cause is also falsified. Some doctors in foreign nations are readily willing to give the treatments and they have extensive experience of 25 to 40 years of doctorhood and they are being bullied by non medical political persons in the US.

So my reason is

"member of a particular social group called intentionally neurological or physiologically disabled for political reasons/comparison or just being more intelligent for social comparison so others could get ahead through harm or a lack of knowledge." Like a jealous politician vs. someone who actually has intellectual aptitude leading to persecution by the jealous.

It must fall under the legal bracket of refugee.
